Forward and Back

This month's teaching is "Forward and Back". I know what you are thinking, "that's pretty remedial." I suppose you are correct but there isn't any one square dance movement that is any more or less important than all the others. As simplistic and self explanatory as it is there is more to this movement than most dancers realize.

Forward and Back is a call used by a caller for more than one reason. If a caller notices some dancers that are a little bit behind the rest of the floor they can call Forward and Back to give those dancers a chance to catch up. Just the opposite is true also. Sometimes the dancers can be rushing through movements and the caller can slow the flow down a bit by calling it. A caller also can use Forward and Back to allow any square(s) that have broken down to quickly get back dancing. A little inside trade secret; calling Forward and Back gives a caller a little bit of time to think about what they want to call next or just gather their thoughts.

Starting formations from which Forward and Back may be called:

Squared Set, In-facing Circle of 8, Facing Lines, facing couples.

Examples of ways a caller may call Forward and Back:

Up To the Middle and Back

All Go Forward and Back

Join Hands, All Go Forward and Back

Into The Middle with a Great Big Yell (from Squared Set or In-facing Circle of 8)

Heads Go Forward and Back (from a Squared Set)

Lines of 4, Up and Back (from Facing Lines)

Lines Up to the middle and Back (from Facing Lines)

Rock Forward and Back (from Facing Lines)

Dance action: Dancers join hands with those next to them, walk forward 3 steps, pause, walk backwards 3 steps, and pause.

Ending formation: Same as starting formation

Timing: Lines close together: 4; All others: 8

Styling: Each dancer steps forward three steps and pauses while bringing the free foot forward and touching it to the floor without transferring weight. Each dancer steps back three steps beginning with the free foot and pauses while touching the free foot beside the weight-bearing foot.

From Facing Lines or similar situations in which eight counts are not appropriate, each dancer steps forward and pauses while bringing the other foot forward and touching it to the floor without transferring weight. Each dancer then steps back on the free foot and pauses while touching the other foot beside it.

As couples or lines meet in the center, the end dancers may touch or clap their outside hands palm to palm (palms flat, fingers pointed upwards).

Comments:

The timing of a Forward and Back from Facing Lines depends on several factors. In Traditional Squares and Contras with phrased calling, it is definitely 8 steps. In Mainstream, it can be 8 steps if the caller assures that the lines are not too close together at the start and delivers the call in a way that encourages the dancers to take the full 8 steps (e.g., Lines Go Forward ... And You Come Back Out).

The choreographic style and delivery of Modern Western patter calling have evolved in such a way that Forward and Back is most often danced in 4 steps.

Some callers clue the dancers to take 4 steps with phrases like "Balance Up and Back" or "Rock Forward and Back", and otherwise expect 8 steps. Other callers believe that the distance between the lines determines the timing, not what the caller says. Some callers only allow 4 steps.

I must mention that the teachings in this and all future articles follow the teaching order as set forth by Callerlab for all beginning classes for beginning dancers. This and all future articles are written with the permission of Callerlab.

PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE

Many thanks to everyone who supported the HSRDC Teen Scholarship Dance and Trade'n'Buy. We raised over $2,500 for this very worthwhile program.

This year, TSFSRD awarded 10 deserving high school seniors $1,500 each to help further their education. William Teague from El Campo Cotton Squares was presented with his award at the dance by Carolyn Smith, TSFSRD President. See photos from this presentation in this issue.

Our 3rd quarter Council Meeting will be held on August 4th. Mark your calendars as we will elect the 2019 HSRDC Board at that meeting. See this issue for more details.

Along with the Council Meeting, we celebrate Humble Wildcatters "Fun-i-versary". This combines their Fun Fest and Anniversary since they were not able to hold their Fun Fest in May.

As always, we invite you to join us at the 70th Houston Hoedown. Look for our flyer in this issue and also on our website, www.squarethru.com. We will continue to plan for a great weekend.

In 2018 we will live...we will love...we will dance. We hope you will join us.
